Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

The following information is furnished pursuant to Item 2.02, "Results of Operations and Financial Condition." Consequently, it is not deemed "filed" for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or otherwise subject to the liabilities of that section. It may only be incorporated by reference in another filing under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Securities Act of 1933 if such subsequent filing specifically references this Form 8-K. On May 14, 2013, Novelis Inc. issued a press release reporting the company's financial results for its year ended March 31, 2013. A copy of the press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated by reference herein in its entirety. A copy of investor presentation materials relating to such financial results is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.2 and is incorporated by reference herein in its entirety. The presentation materials use the following non-GAAP financial measures: EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, Free Cash Flow, Free Cash Flow Before CapEx, Net Income (Loss) Excluding Certain Items and Liquidity.

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA. EBITDA consists of earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA further adjusts EBITDA for unrealized (gains) losses on change in fair value of certain derivative instruments, impairment of goodwill, impairment charges on long-lived assets, gains (losses) on extinguishment of debt, adjustment to include proportional consolidation, restructuring charges, and gains or losses on disposals of property, plant and equipment and businesses and certain other costs. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are measures commonly used in the company's industry, and the company presents EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA to enhance investors' understanding of the company's operating performance. Novelis believes that EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are operating performance measures, and not liquidity measures, that provide investors and analysts with a measure of operating results unaffected by differences in capital structures, capital investment cycles and ages of related assets among otherwise comparable companies.

However, EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are not measurements of financial performance under GAAP, and the company's EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA have important limitations as an analytical tool, and investors should not consider them in isolation, or as a substitute for analysis of the company's results as reported under GAAP. For example, EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA:

- do not reflect the company's cash expenditures or requirements for capital expenditures or capital commitments;
- do not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, the company's working capital needs; and
- do not reflect any costs related to the current or future replacement of assets being depreciated and amortized.

Management believes that investors' understanding of the company's performance is enhanced by including these non-GAAP financial measures as a reasonable basis for comparing the company's ongoing results of operations. Many investors are interested in understanding the performance of the company's business by comparing its results from ongoing operations from one period to the next and would ordinarily add back items that are not part of normal day-to-day operations of the company's business. By providing these non-GAAP financial measures, together with reconciliations, the company believes it is enhancing investors' understanding of its business and its results of operations, as well as assisting investors in evaluating how well it is executing strategic initiatives.

Additionally, a form of adjusted EBITDA, defined in the company's senior secured credit facilities, 8.375% senior notes and 8.75% senior notes, is used for debt covenant compliance purposes, which has additional adjustments to Adjusted EBITDA which may decrease or increase adjusted EBITDA for purposes of these financial covenants.

The company also uses EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA:

- as measures of operating performance to assist the company in comparing its operating performance on a consistent basis because it removes the impact of items not directly resulting from the company's core operations;
 - for planning purposes, including the preparation of the company's internal annual operating budgets and financial projections;
 - to evaluate the performance and effectiveness of the company operational strategies; and

- to calculate incentive compensation payments for the company's key employees.

Free Cash Flow and Free Cash Flow Before CapEx. Free Cash Flow consists of: (a) net cash provided by (used in) operating activities; (b) plus net cash provided by (used in) investing activities and (c) less proceeds from sales of assets. Free Cash Flow before Cap Ex consists of: (a) Free Cash Flow, plus (b) capital expenditures. Management believes that Free Cash Flow and Free Cash Flow Before CapEx are relevant to investors as they provide a measure of the cash generated internally that is available for debt service and other value creation opportunities. However, Free Cash Flow and Free Cash Flow Before CapEx are not measurements of financial performance or liquidity under GAAP and does not necessarily represent cash available for discretionary activities, as certain debt service obligations must be funded out of Free Cash Flow. In addition, the company's method of calculating Free Cash Flow and Free Cash Flow Before CapEx may not be consistent with that of other companies.

Net Income (Loss) Excluding Certain Items. Net Income (Loss) Excluding Certain Items adjusts net income (loss) for restructuring charges, gains (losses) on sale of assets held for sale, and the tax effect of such items. We adjust for items which may recur in varying magnitude which affect the comparability of the operational results of our underlying business. Novelis believes that Net Income (Loss) Excluding Certain Items enhances the overall understanding of the company's current financial performance. Specifically, management believes this non-GAAP financial measure provides useful information to investors by excluding or adjusting certain items, which impact the comparability of the company's core operating results. With respect to gains (losses) on sale of assets held for sale, and the tax effect of such certain items, management believes these excluded items are not reflective of fixed costs that the company believes it will incur over the long term. Management also adjusts for restructuring charges to enhance the comparability of the company's operating results between periods. However, the company has recorded similar charges in prior periods. The company will incur additional restructuring charges in connection with ongoing restructuring initiatives announced previously and may also incur additional restructuring charges in connection with future streamlining measures. Net Income (Loss) Excluding Certain Items should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for or superior to, results prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Liquidity. Liquidity consists of: (a) cash and cash equivalents; (b) plus gross availability under the ABL facility and (c) less borrowing availability limitation under the ABL facility due to fixed charge coverage ratio. In addition to presenting available cash and cash equivalents, management believes that presenting Liquidity enhances investors' understanding of the liquidity that is actually available to the company. This financial measure should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for or superior to, results prepared in accordance with GAAP.

All information in the news release and the presentation materials speak as of the date thereof, and Novelis does not assume any obligation to update said information in the future.

Novelis Reports Fiscal Year 2013 Results Demonstrates Strong Execution on Strategic Initiatives

- Net Income, Excluding Certain Items, of $241 million
- Adjusted EBITDA of $961 million
- Liquidity of $760 million; Took Actions to Further Strengthen Future Liquidity Levels
- Increased Recycled Content by 4 percentage points to 43% for Fiscal 2013
- Global Expansions Progressing Well; Successfully Commissioned two Strategic Expansions

ATLANTA, May 14, 2013—Novelis, the world leader in aluminum rolling and recycling, today reported net income attributable to its common shareholder of $202 million for fiscal 2013. Excluding tax-effected certain items, net income for fiscal 2013 was $241 million, compared to a net income of $218 million for fiscal 2012. Net income for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2013, excluding tax-effected certain items, was $80 million, representing a $55 million increase when compared to the same period in the prior year.

Adjusted EBITDA for fiscal 2013 was $961 million, compared to $1,053 million reported for the same period in 2012. The year-over-year decrease was mostly due to disruptions related to the ERP implementation in two North American plants in the third quarter, pricing pressures in several operating regions, lower average aluminum prices, an impact from a fire at a North American plant in the fourth quarter and higher pension expense. Adjusted EBITDA for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2013 was $240 million, representing a 3 percent increase when compared to the $233 million reported for the same period a year ago, due primarily to stronger demand and good cost control.

“As expected, we saw a sequential recovery from our seasonally low third quarter, with EBITDA increasing 30 percent,” commented Phil Martens, Novelis President and Chief Executive Officer, “driven by strong demand, good cost control and higher operating efficiencies. And despite multiple unexpected headwinds in the second half of the fiscal year, as a result of prudent actions and fiscal discipline, the Company was able to achieve EBITDA of nearly $1 billion for the year. This was accomplished while commissioning two large-scale expansions, closing or divesting underperforming and non-core assets and making good progress on several ongoing global rolling, finishing and recycling expansions. I am proud of our accomplishments this year as we produced solid results in a transformational year marked by heavy investment.”

The Company noted a number of significant accomplishments in fiscal 2013:

- Record capital investment in the business of $775 million, primarily geared at major global rolling, finishing and recycling expansions for its key products segments of can, automotive and specialties.
- Solid liquidity of $760 million for fiscal 2013 despite its aggressive capital expenditure program. The Company will continue its significant investment program, with planned capital expenditures between $700 to $750 million for fiscal year 2014. As a result of these investments and to provide additional flexibility, the Company took actions to amend its ABL facility which will allow it to further strengthen its liquidity. Had this transaction closed in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2013, liquidity would have been approximately $950 million.

- Increased the recycled content in its products by 4 percentage points to 43 percent for fiscal 2013 making good progress toward the Company's goal of having 80 percent recycled content in its products by 2020.
- Continued optimization of the Company's footprint and product portfolio, including the sale of three foil plants in Europe, the closure of a plant in Canada and shutdown of a smelter pot line in Brazil.
- Made significant headway on all strategic expansions; began the commissioning process for the Brazil rolling expansion and Korea recycling center and is on track with all other rolling, finishing and recycling expansions.

"This is a heavy investment period for us that is necessary to maintain and grow our leadership position in the industry," said Martens. "Fiscal 13 was a transitional year much like fiscal 14 will be. We are very pleased with the execution on all of our expansion projects and are looking forward to capitalizing on the significant growth we see ahead in our key end-markets of can, automotive and specialties."

Shipments of aluminum rolled products totaled 2,786 kilotonnes for fiscal 2013, down slightly compared to shipments of 2,838 kilotonnes for the same period last year due mostly to the sale of the Company's three foil plants in Europe and production disruptions in North America. Shipments of aluminum rolled products totaled 698 kilotonnes for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2013, essentially flat compared to shipments of 703 kilotonnes for the same period last year.

Net sales for fiscal 2013 were $9.8 billion, an 11% decrease compared to the $11.1 billion reported in the same period a year ago. This decline was due to lower average aluminum prices and lower shipments when compared to last year. For the fourth quarter, sales were $2.5 billion compared to $2.6 billion reported for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2012.

For fiscal 2013, Novelis reported liquidity of $760 million. "Despite our substantial capital expenditure program, we reported solid liquidity in the quarter," said Steve Fisher, SVP and Chief Financial Officer of Novelis. Free cash flow was a negative $565 million for fiscal 2013, primarily due to capital expenditures of $775 million and negative changes in working capital. "This was a peak investment year for Novelis. We are effectively deploying a significant amount of capital to drive strong future returns."

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This press release and the presentation slides for the earnings call contain non-GAAP financial measures as defined by SEC rules. We think that these measures are helpful to investors in measuring our financial performance and liquidity and comparing our performance to our peers. However, our non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similarly titled non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies. These non-GAAP financial measures have limitations as an analytical tool and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for GAAP financial measures. To the extent we discuss any non-GAAP financial measures on the earnings call, a reconciliation of each measure to the most directly comparable GAAP measure will be available in the presentation slides filed as Exhibit 99.2 to our Current Report on Form 8-K furnished to the SEC concurrent with the issuance of this press release. In addition, the Form 8-K includes a more detailed description of each of these non-GAAP financial measures, together with a discussion of the usefulness and purpose of such measures.

Attached to this news release are tables showing the Consolidated Statements of Operations, Consolidated Balance Sheets, Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows, Reconciliation to Net Income excluding Certain Items, Reconciliation to Adjusted EBITDA and Free Cash Flow.

Forward-Looking Statements

Statements made in this news release which describe Novelis' intentions, expectations, beliefs or predictions may be forward-looking statements within the meaning of securities laws. Forward-looking statements include statements preceded by, followed by, or including the words "believes," "expects," "anticipates," "plans," "estimates," "projects," "forecasts," or similar expressions. An example of forward looking statements in this new release is our expectation for capital expenditures by the Company in fiscal year 2014. Novelis cautions that, by their nature, forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty and that Novelis' actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied in such statements. We do not intend, and we disclaim any obligation, to update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Factors that could cause actual results or outcomes to differ from the results expressed or implied by forward-looking statements include, among other things: changes in the prices and availability of aluminum (or premiums associated with such prices) or other materials and raw materials we use; the capacity and effectiveness of our metal hedging activities, including our internal used beverage cans (UBCs) and smelter hedges; relationships with, and financial and operating conditions of, our customers, suppliers and other stakeholders; fluctuations in the supply of, and prices for, energy in the areas in which we maintain production facilities; our ability to access financing for future capital requirements; changes in the relative values of various currencies and the effectiveness of our currency hedging activities; factors affecting our operations, such as litigation, environmental remediation and clean-up costs, labor relations and negotiations, breakdown of equipment and other events; the impact of restructuring efforts in the future; economic, regulatory and political factors within the countries in which we operate or sell our products, including changes in duties or tariffs; competition from other aluminum rolled products producers as well as from substitute materials such as steel, glass, plastic and composite materials; changes in general economic conditions including deterioration in the global economy, particularly sectors in which our customers operate; changes in the fair value of derivative instruments; cyclical demand and pricing within the principal markets for our products as well as seasonality in certain of our customers' industries; changes in government regulations, particularly those affecting taxes, derivative instruments, environmental, health or safety compliance; changes in interest rates that have the effect of increasing the amounts we pay under our principal credit agreement and other financing agreements; the effect of taxes and changes in tax rates; our indebtedness and our ability to generate cash. The above list of factors is not exhaustive. Other important risk factors included under the caption "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012, and Forms 10-Q for the quarters ended June 30, 2012, September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2012 are specifically incorporated by reference into this news release.

Statements made in this presentation which describe Novelis' intentions, expectations, beliefs or predictions may be forward-looking statements within the meaning of securities laws. Forward-looking statements include statements preceded by, followed by, or including the words "believes," "expects," "anticipates," "plans," "estimates," "projects," "forecasts," or similar expressions. Examples of forward-looking statements in this presentation are statements about expected FRP market growth globally and in our key product segments of beverage can, automotive and specialties. Novelis cautions that, by their nature, forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty and that Novelis' actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied in such statements. We do not intend, and we disclaim any obligation, to update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Factors that could cause actual results or outcomes to differ from the results expressed or implied by forward-looking statements include, among other things: changes in the prices and availability of aluminum (or premiums associated with such prices) or other materials and raw materials we use; the capacity and effectiveness of our metal hedging activities; relationships with, and financial and operating conditions of, our customers, suppliers and other stakeholders; fluctuations in the supply of, and prices for, energy in the areas in which we maintain production facilities; our ability to access financing for future capital requirements; changes in the relative values of various currencies and the effectiveness of our currency hedging activities; factors affecting our operations, such as litigation, environmental remediation and clean-up costs, labor relations and negotiations, breakdown of equipment and other events; the impact of restructuring efforts in the future; economic, regulatory and political factors within the countries in which we operate or sell our products, including changes in duties or tariffs; competition from other aluminum rolled products producers as well as from substitute materials such as steel, glass, plastic and composite materials; changes in general economic conditions including deterioration in the global economy, particularly sectors in which our customers operate; changes in the fair value of derivative instruments; cyclical demand and pricing within the principal markets for our products as well as seasonality in certain of our customers' industries; changes in government regulations, particularly those affecting taxes, environmental, health or safety compliance; changes in interest rates that have the effect of increasing the amounts we pay under our principal credit agreement and other financing agreements; the effect of taxes and changes in tax rates; and our indebtedness and our ability to generate cash. The above list of factors is not exhaustive. Other important risk factors included under the caption "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012, and Forms 10-Q for the quarters ended June 30, 2012, September 30, 2012 and December 31, 2012 are specifically incorporated by reference into this presentation.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This presentation contains non-GAAP financial measures as defined by SEC rules. We think that these measures are helpful to investors in measuring our financial performance and liquidity and comparing our performance to our peers. However, our non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similarly titled non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies. These non-GAAP financial measures have limitations as an analytical tool and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for GAAP financial measures. We have included reconciliations of each of these measures to the most directly comparable GAAP measure. In addition, a more detailed description of these non-GAAP financial measures used in this presentation, together with a discussion of the usefulness and purpose of such measures, is included as Exhibit 99.2 to our Current Report on Form 8-K furnished to the SEC with our earnings press release.

Explanation of Other Income (Expense) in Adjusted EBITDA

1) Metal Price Lag Net of Related Hedges:

On certain sales contracts we experience timing differences on the pass through of changing aluminum prices from our suppliers to our customers. Additional timing differences occur in the flow of metal costs through moving average inventory cost values and cost of goods sold. This timing difference is referred to as Metal Price Lag. We have a risk management program in place to minimize the impact of this “lag”.

2) Foreign Currency Remeasurement Net of Related Hedges:

All Balance Sheet accounts not denominated in functional currency are remeasured every period to the period end exchange rates. This impacts our profitability. Like Metal Price Lag, we have a risk management program in place to minimize the impact of such remeasurement.

3) Purchase Accounting:

Following our acquisition, the consideration and transaction costs paid by Hindalco in connection with the transaction were “pushed down” to us and were allocated to the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. These allocations are amortized over periods, impacting our profitability.
